

Brent Buck - Biography

My parents met in Clearwater, so I have lived here for almost my entire life. My first home was in a logging bush camp in the TFL where my father was the camp foreman and my mother was the camp cook. Our family moved into Clearwater for my grade 1 year so that I and my older siblings could attend school.

After graduating from Clearwater Secondary School (CSS), I worked at various jobs: falling for a logging company, home construction, operation of the Clearwater Ski Hill, forest fire fighting until I became the in-the-field instructor for the forestry/logging program at CSS. That led to me returning to university to get my Bachelor of Education specializing in Technology Education so I could work full time as a shop teacher at CSS. Since retirement, I still return to CSS as a TTOC for the shop teachers when needed.

My wife and I love Clearwater. We grew up and raised our family here. We are proud of our community and the many people who contribute to make it a great place to live.
